Organic Growth at the Front-Line Level

Jeff Rendel

It is common knowledge that it is more economical and efficient to buy an existing business than to start a new one. The same common sense applies to developing new business with existing members.

There is an excess of business to be gained from the members you see every day. Believe it or not, your members have financial business elsewhere, but they don't have to! Your frontline leaders can modify this dilemma and help your credit union grow. This webinar will help your credit union front-line staff identify and cultivate business opportunities through in-branch contact, phone conversations and member's referrals to others they know.

SPEAKER: Jeff Rendel, CSP is president of Rising Above Enterprises and works with financial service providers that want an engaged and committed workforce. Read more about this session and speaker

UBIT Issues
Kevin Fincher

This session will cover the most recent UBIT issues impacting credit unions. Topics covered will include a discussion on how recent litigation matters will impact your reporting requirements, IRS audit update, best practice advice regarding the Form 990 information reporting and revisions to the 2009 form. Additionally, it will cover items that have been receiving increased scrutiny by IRS and state taxing jurisdictions. Examples include volunteer and employee taxable fringe benefits, lobbying and political involvement, and sales and use tax.

SPEAKER: Kevin Fincher is a Tax Partner in Clifton Gunderson LLP's Phoenix office and has more than twelve years of experience in public accounting dealing with a wide range of tax and industry topics relating to financial institutions. Read more about this speaker

Financial Privacy
& GLBA Update:
Including the New Model Privacy
Forms

Elizabeth Fast

Credit unions have traditionally safe-guarded their members' financial information. Now under Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA), credit unions must provide periodic notices to members regarding the credit union's information sharing practices and must inform members of their right to opt-out. Recently, the NCUA and other federal agencies released a new model privacy notice form that is designed to make it easier for consumers to understand how financial institutions collect and share personal information.

Credit unions that provide this model privacy notice form to their members will be in compliance with GLBA. However, the previous safe harbor provisions under GLBA will be eliminated on January 1, 2011. Therefore, to obtain a compliance safe harbor after January 1, 2011, your credit union must use the new model privacy notice form. This webinar will review the new model privacy notice form, explain how the new form should be used, and cover all the financial privacy duties a credit union owes to its members.

SPEAKER: Elizabeth Fast, Esq. is a partner with Spencer Fane Britt & Browne LLP where she specializes in the representation of financial institutions. Read more about this session and speaker

Regulatory Update
Veronica Madsen
& Tom Leduc

It can be challenging to keep up with current legislation and regulatory change that affects compliance issues at your credit union, but this bi-annual update is an ideal way to "check-in" on timely topics and have your questions answered.

The timely areas to be discussed in this update session include Reg. E (ATM / Debit card transactions), Reg. GG (Internet Gambling effective June 1), FACT Act accuracy and integrity, Reg. CC (change-in-terms notices due March 26) and Reg. Z.

SPEAKERS: Veronica Madsen has been counsel for the Michigan Credit Union League and CUcorp since July 2005. Tom Leduc is a well known attorney and owner of The Leduc Group, LLC, in Dearborn, Michigan which specializes in financial institution regulatory compliance.
